

What the Y. M. C. A. Is Doing For Our Army In the Industrial Trenches

Soldiers of industry have the same "clubby" instincts as their brothers in khaki. Center picture shows one of the popular recreations in the huts that the Y. M. C. A. is building just behind our "home trenches." On the firing line the "Y" hut is regarded as the enlisted men's club. Similar club houses are now being built for the armies in overalls at our shipbuilding yards and munitions plants.

"Two American armies are fighting together to help the war—on the one hand, an army in khaki, and on the other, an army in blue overalls. The work they are doing is of equal importance. That is the reason the Y. M. C. A. plans to do for the industrial soldier what it is doing for the soldier in the fighting line."

"Y" huts will spring up around munition plants and ship yards here just as they have sprung up in the war zone of Flanders. For the workman who goes "over the top" for his country in the war industries the Association will provide gymnasiums, shower-baths, games, movies and a chance to study if he likes. In the crowded mushroom cities where he must work, the Association will furnish him a place for rest and recreation."

This is the way John Sherman Hoyt, Chairman of the Committee on Work in War Industries of the Y. M. C. A., summed up today the new work cut out for the Association.

Briefly stated, the new plan consists in treating "the army in blue overalls" exactly like "the army in khaki," so far as the comforts and conveniences of the "Y" are concerned. All over the United States, in every town or city where hundreds or thousands of munition-makers, shipbuilders, or other war-workers are stationed, Y. M. C. A. huts, like those for our American soldiers overseas, are being built.

The same recreational facilities, the same educational opportunities that the "Y" offers the men who go into the French trenches will be on hand for the industrial soldiers. They will be able to find almost everything in the huts from a shower-bath to instruction in the English language. Concert singers and other entertainers who have been touring the camps for the Y. M. C. A. will be just as proud to appear before this "army behind the army" as before the men in khaki.

In many of the munition and shipbuilding centers there is a twenty-four hour day. When the men work in eight hour shifts, the Y. M. C. A. will do the same. If a workman wants a cup of hot chocolate and a sandwich at two o'clock A. M., they will be ready for him. If he wants to go to the movies at four A. M., he can do so. War workers have been recognized by the President of the United States as just as essential as soldiers in winning the war. They work without uniform, or thrills of battle. In many of the war-industry cities, where population has doubled overnight, and has been multiplied by a hundred within a month, they lack even the proper housing facilities. The Y. M. C. A. will do its best to make up for the discomforts and inconveniences here, just as it does in the case of soldiers at the front.

Employers and labor leaders alike are lending their enthusiastic cooperation to the Y. M. C. A. plans for "the army in overalls." John Sherman Hoyt, Chairman of the Committee on Work in War Industries of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A., has the matter in charge. Charles R. Townson, secretary of the Industrial Department of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., is working out the problems of the industrial soldiers with Mr. Hoyt.

Baccalaureate Sermon—The senior class of the Weber normal college has selected James L. Barker, former principal of the school, to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class. May 12 has been set for the event. It was decided originally to hold it on May 19 but the change in date of the school's closing made the earlier date necessary. The Weber normal college will close its school year May 17. The class first selected Prof. D. J. Wilson to give the sermon but he is attending school at the University of California and could not come home.

Driving Piles—In order to strengthen the cut-off across Great Salt Lake the Southern Pacific railroad company is driving more piles which are from 80 to 90 feet in length. Because of the heavy traffic and the need to keep the line across the lake open at all times, it was necessary to make special provision for driving the piles, so that the implement used would not require the use of a siding to get out of the way of moving trains. A machine that is termed "a double-barreled" pile driver was designed and constructed under the direction of G. W. Rear, general bridge inspector.

NORTH OGDEN BOYS IN HANDS OF OFFICERS OF THE LAW

E. A. Fenton and Ivan Daniels, 17-year-old youths of North Ogden, were arrested yesterday afternoon at Layton where they were overtaken by two motorcycle officers of the Salt Lake police force as they were driving to Ogden in an automobile alleged to have been stolen from Arthur McFarlane, manager of the Parrott Coal company of Salt Lake and brother of John McFarlane of Ogden.

Officers of the Ogden police force arrived on the scene at Layton a few minutes after the Salt Lake officers had placed the boys under arrest. The Ogden police force was notified by the Zion office to look out for the boys, as the car had been missed a short time after it had been taken. Detective Grant Syphers, Sergeant J. H. Keller and Desk Sergeant John Cary were taken out on the road by John McFarlane who had been called by his brother and told to look out for the car. McFarlane called at the police station just as the call for Salt Lake came in and the officers went in his car.

When the party reached Layton they found the Salt Lake officers with the car and the two boys. The boys were taken to Salt Lake to be turned over to the juvenile court there. They told the police officers that they took the car in order to have a ride home.

According to the motorcycle officers, they rode over the highway at a rate of 75 miles an hour to overtake the boys, who had a start of about ten miles. It was said that the alleged theft was one of the boldest, the car being taken from almost under the nose of the owner, who was sitting not more than 20 feet away when it was appropriated by the two boys.
